

BREE SPENCER, DIRECTOR OF TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE & EVALUATION:

Bree Spencer is the Director of Evaluation and Technical Assistance at Safe & Sound where she works with communities outside of Milwaukee to build creative programs addressing public safety issues. While Spencer uses a systems-minded, results-oriented approach to projects, her work begins by understanding the nature and need of the people and agencies she is serving to develop meaningful community solutions.

Through engaged, cross-sector planning and thoughtful evaluative measures, Spencer offers informative recommendations, training and resources. Her focus is on leveraging local expertise and best practices to make real and sustainable change for communities. In 2017, Spencer oversaw her promotion to Director of Evaluation and Technical Assistance after serving as Safe & Sound's Program Director overseeing a department of 18 field staff, preceded by her role as Community Prosecution Unit (CPU) Coordinator working to abate nuisance properties, through close collaboration with law enforcement, city agencies and residents.

Spencer has more than 13 years of professional and volunteer experience in public service and is passionate about finding the intersection between efficiency and impact. She holds a Master of Public Administration from the Maxwell School at Syracuse University and a BA in Philosophy from Western Washington University.
